Weekly Focus

Essential Question: Why do different animals move in different ways?

Sight Word: a

This week we will focus on reading with expression and what punctuation means. We will discover more action words and color adjectives.

We will be focusing on the sound of Cc and short vowel sounds.

Show-and-tell will now occur once a week on Thursdays. Your child can bring in any ONE item that fits in their backpack (please no live animals).

What we're Learning

We begin each day with our bible story. We finished up our studies on Moses. Moving forward through the bible, we will study Joshua and the defeat of Jericho.

November will be full of leaves, pilgrims and Indians. We will have fun studying these themes through crafts, projects and stories.

We are beginning a new math unit. We will begin our focus on patterns and comparing likenesses and differences. We maintain our calendar, counting and number studies.

Please return your October reading log for your child. You'll find the November log included with this newsletter.
